NEW ZEALAND CONSULTING GROUP

Maximum effectiveness, integrity, and zeal to our clients is what move us forward and what made New Zealand Consulting a respected face in the construction and engineering industries within New Zealand.

The construction and engineering industries always represent great importance for a country's economy, and now we see the unfold of major residential, commercial and industrial developments as New Zealand keeps growing at a fast pace.

We help our clients to gather the information and the resources they need to take their projects out of the sketch desk.

All our clients have good reasons to trust us with their projects and that's why after a completed endeavour, they return to us to run their next one.

New Zealand Consulting works with all aspects of residential, commercial and industrial projects, from its inception to its completion, acting throughout the whole spectrum.

We are experts on dealing with costing, funding, planning and the execution of construction and engineering projects. You can reach out to us to run your project as a whole or to act within a specific step, phase or stage.

We have large experience with project resourcing, and we will be able to secure you the resources you need to run through your project.

Being it construction or engineering related resources, we have got a vast network of partners and contractors that will be ready to start working under request, securing your projects' deadline compliance and effectiveness.

You will always be the priority.

In our company we pride ourselves on having an impeccable reputation with our clients, and that's because we always stay firm on our promises, and we are always there to fix any problems that may occur along the way.

IF WE PROMISE,

WE DELIVER

IF THERE'S A PROBLEM,

WE FIX IT
